The Caribbean boat strike is not a tangent—it's the smoking gun proving Hegseth's JAG purge worked exactly as designed.

Why It's Central, Not Distraction

- February 2025: Hegseth fires top JAGs (Berger, Plummer) explicitly to eliminate "roadblocks" to unlawful orders.
- September 2, 2025: U.S. forces execute second strike on boat survivors in water under alleged Hegseth "leave no survivors" directive—classic "no quarter" war crime under Geneva Conventions.
- Former JAGs Working Group directly connects the dots: purge removed internal lawyers who would have blocked or prosecuted this exact operation.

Direct Chain of Capture

Pre-Purge JAGs → "This second strike on survivors is murder. Stand down."
Post-Purge Loyalist Corps → "Expansive legal advice approves. Proceed."

The boat proves the mechanism delivered: illegal kill chain executed without legal interference. Without this concrete result, the purge looks like mere personnel drama. With it, the whole architecture—Hegseth-Parlatore overhaul enabling foreign-aligned, Constitution-defying ops—is exposed in blood.
